

CAROLYN RAND INTERIOR DESIGN, LTD.

Carolyn R. Rand, ASID NCIDQ Certified

“Creating beautiful interiors that reflect a client’s personality brings me joy and fulfillment. When a designer, client, builder, and architect work together as a team the results are amazing.

“Every aspect of interior design - from major remodeling, furnishing a room, the construction of a new home, to selecting and placing art - can be a satisfying experience for everyone. I approach interior design with the focus and enthusiasm of an artist. My own art background has given me an eye for color, style, and inspiration.”

Carolyn’s unusually strong art background sets her apart in the interior design profession. Her knowledge of color theory and her ability to communicate solid design principles bring dramatic results. Clients remark that they can tell Carolyn was once a teacher of painting, drawing and the history of architecture because she helps them understand what needs to be done and why it needs to be done. Along with the design of furnishings, she excels in space planning, lighting design and architectural detailing. She believes that excellence of design flows from the architecture and is not added as an afterthought. Carolyn’s desire is to create spaces of harmony and comfort for her clients.

Carolyn graduated from Asbury College with a degree in Art Education. She continued her education by studying interior design at the Columbus College of Art and Design, and by studying art and architecture in England and Italy. Carolyn has over thirty years of design related experience, is a Professional Member of the American Society of Interior Design (ASID) and is certified by the National Council for Interior Design Qualification (NCIDQ).
